Report

Thank you for the petition requesting traffic calming on Keyte Street.

Council prioritise all the traffic calming requests based on a number of factors including road classification, pedestrian activity, crash history, road geometry, traffic volumes etc.

Based on an annual budget of approximately 100k council implement traffic calming on 1-2 streets every year. This year's traffic calming budget is already committed to implement traffic calming on Manse Street and Lupton Avenue. Council also plan to implement traffic calming on Churchill Street in the next round.

Traffic calming may slow down vehicles to some extent but it may not necessarily stop people from making poor decisions. Keyte Street already has traffic calming measures in place in the form of kerb build-outs and a roundabout. However, council will consider Keyte Street for additional traffic calming in the next round and prioritise it against other streets on the programme.

6.1 2018 Elected Member Code of Conduct Review

Meeting:	Council
Date of meeting:	29 March 2018
Reporting officer:	Jason Marris (Democracy and Assurance Manager)

1 Purpose

To present an updated Elected Member Code of Conduct for adoption.

2 Recommendations

That Council;

- 1. Agrees that the updated 2018 Elected Member Code of Conduct retains the ability for members of the public to make a complaint
- 2. Agrees that the updated 2018 Elected Member Code of Conduct retains the provision for the full Council to be the decision-maker for all complaints where the breach of the Code of Conduct is found to be material
- Agrees that the updated 2018 Elected Member Code of Conduct includes the provision to allow the Chief Executive only to select the external pool of independent investigators at the start of the triennium
- 4. Agrees that the updated 2018 Elected Member Code of Conduct allows the Chief Executive to select an independent external investigator from outside of the pool for any complaint where circumstances require it
- 5. Adopts the updated 2018 Elected Member Code of Conduct located at Attachment One, incorporating the decisions above
- 6. Delegates the authority to make the editorial and typographical changes to the 2018 Elected Member Code of Conduct to the Mayor and Chief Executive, if required.

3 Background

In 2017, Council had two briefings to discuss a review of the 2013 Whangarei District Council Code of Conduct against a new template Code of Conduct provided by Local Government New Zealand (LGNZ). At its 27 July 2017 meeting, Council resolved to continue with the 2013 Whangarei District Council Code of Conduct.

At a February 2018 meeting, Council resolved to review Part Four of the 2013 Whangarei District Council Code of Conduct. Part Four relates to the investigation process for elected member code of conduct complaints. This was reviewed at a Council briefing on 15 March 2018.

4 Discussion

The 15 March 2018 council briefing discussed the LGNZ template with the aim of including aspects of it in Part Four of the current 2013 Whangarei District Council Elected Member Code.

The key recommendations and options from the briefing are listed below. Note that any amendment to the Elected Member Code of Conduct requires a 75% majority of the members present.

 The current code of conduct allows the public to make a complaint about an elected member. The LGNZ template states that only elected members and the Chief Executive may make a compliant. To ensure clarity, the council is being asked if it wants to continue with the status quo, or limit who can make a complaint to only elected members and the Chief Executive.

Options: Council can decide to continue to allow members of the public to lodge a complaint, or not.

2. The current code of conduct has the full Council as the decision-maker for those code of conduct complaints found to be more than minor. The LGNZ template provides the option for full Council or a Committee of Council to make the decisions for complaints where the breach has been found to be material.

Options: Council can decide that full Council makes the decision for all material breaches of the Code, or that the decision making be delegated to a Committee of council.

3. The LGNZ template requires all complaints to go to an external independent investigator who is selected from a pool of investigators. The membership of that pool is determined by the Chief Executive, in consultation with the Mayor. To promote a clear demarcation of elected member involvement in the complaint process, Council could allocate the role of selecting the pool of independent investigators to the Chief Executive.

Options: Council can decide to have a pool of investigators chosen by the Chief Executive in consultation with the Mayor or alternatively have the Chief Executive only select the membership.

4. The LGNZ template does not allow for an independent external investigator to be called upon from outside of the pool if circumstances require it, such as managing conflicts, or requiring specific expertise.

Options: Council can decide that the Chief Executive, in consultation with the Mayor or the Chief Executive only (depending on decision three above) be provided the ability to use an independent investigator from outside of the pool, if circumstances require it.

5. The updated Elected Member Whangarei District Council Code of Conduct is located at Attachment One. All of the recommended changes have been highlighted. It has been drafted following direction provided by Council at the 15 March briefing. Elected members have the ability to vote on each individual recommendation, so they have been provided separately for decision. Option: Recommendation five asks Council to adopt the Updated 2018 Whangarei District Council Code of Conduct, incorporating the decisions made prior. If Council does not agree with recommendation five, the previous four recommendations are nullified, and the current 2013 Code of Conduct remains in force.

There is one other administrative change to the 2013 Code of Conduct. The current code refers to the Securities Act 1978. This has since been updated and renamed to the Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013. The responsibilities of Council under the new Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013 have not changed. This amendment has been made in the updated Code of Conduct at Attachment One. If Council agrees to recommendation five, this change is captured. If not, staff will have a recommendation ready to include this change in the 2013 Code of Conduct.

5 Significance and engagement

The decisions or matters of this report do not trigger the significance criteria outlined in Council's Significance and Engagement Policy, and the public will be informed via agenda publication on the website.

APPENDIX TWO – PROCESS FOR THE DETERMINATION AND INVESTIGATION OF COMPLAINTS

Part 1 Introduction

Schedule 7 of the Local Government Act 2002 (the Act) requires each local authority to adopt a code of conduct. Once adopted, all elected members are required to comply with the code.

This code of conduct provides guidance on the standards of behaviour that are expected from the mayor and elected members of Whangarei District Council. The code applies to elected members in their dealings with:

- each other
- the chief executive
- all staff employed by the chief executive on behalf of Council
- the media
- the general public.

The objective of the code is to enhance:

- the effectiveness of Council as the autonomous local authority with statutory responsibilities for the good local government of the Whangarei District
- the credibility and accountability of Council within its community
- mutual trust, respect and tolerance between the elected members as a group and between the elected members and management.

This code of conduct seeks to achieve its objectives by recording:

- an agreed statement of roles and responsibilities (recorded in Part 2 of the code)
- agreed general principles of conduct (recorded in Part 3 of the code)
- specific codes of conduct applying to particular circumstances or matters (also recorded in Part 3 of the code).

Elected members are primarily accountable to the electors of the District through the democratic process. However members must note that the auditor-general may hold them to account for unlawful actions or expenditure or for breaches of the Local Authorities (Members' Interests) Act 1968.

The code of conduct that follows is based on the following general principles of good governance:

Public interest

Members should serve only the interests of the District as a whole and should never improperly confer an advantage or disadvantage on any one person.

Honesty and integrity

Members should not place themselves in situations where their honesty and integrity may be questioned, should not behave improperly and should on all occasions avoid the appearance of such behaviour.

Objectivity

Members should make decisions on merit including making appointments, awarding contracts, or recommending individuals for rewards or benefits. Elected members should also note that once elected, their primary duty is to the interests of the entire District, not the ward that elected them.

Accountability

Members should be accountable to the public for their actions and the manner in which they carry out their responsibilities, and should cooperate fully and honestly with the scrutiny appropriate to their particular office.

• Openness

Members should be as open as possible about their actions and those of Council, and should be prepared to justify their actions.

• Personal judgment

Members can and will take account of the views of others, but should reach their own conclusions on the issues before them, and act in accordance with those conclusions.

• Respect for others

Members should promote equality by not discriminating unlawfully against any person and by treating people with respect, regardless of their race, age, religion, gender, sexual orientation, or disability. They should respect the impartiality and integrity of Council staff.

• Duty to uphold the law

Members should uphold the law, and on all occasions, act in accordance with the trust the public places in them.

• Stewardship

Members must ensure that Council uses resources prudently and for lawful purposes, and that Council maintains sufficient resources to meet its statutory obligations.

Leadership

Members should promote and support these proposals by example, and should always endeavour to act in the best interests of the community.

Part 2 Roles and responsibilities of elected members

Elected members, acting as Council, are responsible for:

- development and adoption of Council policy
- monitoring the performance of Council against its stated objectives and policies
- prudent stewardship of Council resources
- employment of the chief executive
- representing the interests of the residents and ratepayers of the Whangarei District. (On election, the members' first responsibility is to the District as a whole).

Unless otherwise provided in the Local Government Act 2002 or in standing orders, Council can act only by majority decisions at meetings and each member has one vote (unless where Council has resolved to give the Chairperson a casting vote). Any individual member (including the mayor) has no authority to act on behalf of Council unless Council has expressly delegated such authority.

Part 3 Relationships and behaviours

This part of the code sets out Council's agreed standards of behaviour. Some of the matters described in this part of the code reflect other legislation such as the Local Authorities (Members' Interests) Act 1968. The majority of the code is material that Council has decided to include of its own initiative.

Relationships with other members

Successful teamwork is a critical element in the success of any democratically elected organisation. No team will be effective unless mutual respect exists between members. With this in mind elected members will conduct their dealings with each other in ways that:

• maintain public confidence in the office to which they have been elected

- are open and honest
- focus on issues rather than personalities
- avoid aggressive, offensive or abusive conduct and language.

Relationships with staff

The effective performance of Council also requires a high level of cooperation and mutual respect between elected members and staff. To ensure that level of cooperation and trust is maintained, elected members will:

23

- recognise that the chief executive is the employer (on behalf of Council) of all Council employees, and as such only the chief executive may hire, dismiss or instruct or censure an employee
- make themselves aware of the obligations that Council and the chief executive have as employers and observe those requirements at all times
- treat all employees with courtesy and respect (including the avoidance of aggressive, offensive or abusive conduct towards employees)
- observe any guidelines that the chief executive puts in place regarding contact with employees
- not do anything which compromises, or could be seen as compromising, the impartiality of an employee
- avoid publicly criticising any employee in any way, but especially in ways that reflect on the competence and integrity of the employee
- raise concerns about employees only with the chief executive, and concerns about the chief executive only with the mayor or the chief executive review committee.

Elected members should be aware that failure to observe this portion of the code of conduct may compromise Council's obligations to act as a good employer and may expose Council to civil litigation and audit sanctions.

Relationships with the community

Effective Council decision-making depends on productive relationships between elected members and the community at large.

Members should ensure that individual citizens are accorded respect in their dealings with Council, have their concerns listened to, and deliberated on in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

Members should act in a manner that encourages and values community involvement in local democracy.

Contact with the media

In dealings with the media, elected members must clarify whether or not they are communicating a Council or a committee view, or are expressing a personal view.

Confidential information

In the course of their duties members will occasionally receive information that may need to be treated as confidential. This will generally be information that is either commercially sensitive or is personal to a particular individual or organisation.

Elected members must not use or disclose confidential information for any purpose other than the purpose for which the information was supplied to the elected member.

Elected members should be aware that failure to observe these provisions will impede the performance of Council by inhibiting information flows and undermining public confidence in Council. Failure to observe these provisions may also expose Council to prosecution under the Privacy Act 1993 and/or civil litigation.

Conflicts of interest

Elected members must be careful that they maintain a clear separation between their personal interests and their duties as an elected member. This is to ensure that people who fill positions of authority carry on their duties free from bias (whether real or perceived). Members therefore need to familiarise themselves with the provisions of the Local Authorities (Members' Interests) Act 1968 which concerns financial interests, and with other legal requirements concerning non-financial conflicts of interest.

The Local Authorities (Members' Interests) Act 1968 provides that an elected member is disqualified from office, or from election to office, if that member is concerned or interested in contracts under which payments made by or on behalf of the local authority exceed $25,000 in any financial year, unless prior approval has been obtained.

Additionally, elected members are prohibited from participating in any Council discussion or vote on any matter in which they have a pecuniary interest, other than an interest in common with the general public. The same rules also apply where the member's spouse contracts with the authority or has a pecuniary interest. Members must declare their interests at Council meetings where matters in which they have a pecuniary interest arise.

Members shall annually make a general declaration of interest as soon as practicable after becoming aware of any such interests. These declarations are recorded in a register of interests maintained by Council. The declaration must notify Council of the nature and extent of any interest, including:

- any employment, trade or profession carried on by the member or the member's spouse for profit or gain
- any company, trust, partnership etc for which the member or their spouse is a director, partner, trustee or beneficiary
- the address of any land in which the member has a beneficial interest and which is in the Whangarei District
- the address of any land where the landlord is Whangarei District Council and:
 - the member or their spouse is a tenant, or
 - the land is tenanted by a firm in which the member or spouse is a partner, or a company of which the member or spouse is a director, or a trust of which the member or spouse is a trustee or beneficiary
- any other matters which the public might reasonably regard as likely to influence the member's actions during the course of their duties as a member.

If the member is in any doubt as to whether or not a particular course of action (including a decision to take no action) raises a conflict of interest, then the member should immediately seek guidance from the chief executive.

Members may also contact the Audit Office for guidance as to whether that member has a pecuniary interest. If there is a pecuniary interest, the member may seek an exemption to allow that member to participate or vote on a particular issue in which they may have a pecuniary interest. The latter must be done before the discussion or vote. The chief executive must also seek approval from the Audit Office for contractual payments to members, their spouses or their companies that exceed the $25,000 annual limit.

Failure to observe the requirements of the Local Authorities (Members' Interests) Act 1968 could potentially invalidate the particular decision made, or the action taken, by Council. Failure to observe these requirements could also leave the elected member open to prosecution under the Local Authorities (Members' Interests) Act 1968. In the event of a conviction elected members can be disqualified from office.

Standing orders

Elected members must adhere to any standing orders adopted by Council under the Local Government Act 2002. These standing orders are subject to the same legal requirements as a code of conduct with regard to their adoption and amendment.

Ethics

Whangarei District Council seeks to promote the highest standards of ethical conduct amongst its elected members. Accordingly, elected members will:

- claim only for legitimate expenses as laid down by any determination of the Remuneration Authority then in force, and any lawful policy of Council developed in accordance with that determination
- not influence, or attempt to influence, any Council employee to take actions that may benefit the member, or the member's family or business interests
- not use Council resources for personal business (including campaigning)
- not solicit, demand, or request any gift, reward or benefit by virtue of their position
- notify the chief executive if any gifts are accepted
- where a gift to the value of $500 or more is offered to a member, immediately disclose this to the chief executive for inclusion in the publicly available register of interests.

Disqualification of members from office

Elected members are automatically disqualified from office if they are convicted of a criminal offence punishable by two or more years' imprisonment, or if they cease to be or lose their status as an elector or of certain breaches of the Local Authorities (Members' Interests) Act 1968.

Whangarei District Council requires elected members who are declared bankrupt to notify the chief executive as soon as practicable after being declared bankrupt.

Part 4 Compliance and review

Breaches of the Code

Members must comply with the provisions of this Code (LGA 2002, schedule 7, s. 15(4)). Any member, member of the public or the chief executive, who believes that the Code has been breached by the behaviour of a member, may make a complaint to that effect. All complaints will be considered in a manner that is consistent with the following principles.

26

Principles

The following principles will guide any processes for investigating and determining whether or not a breach under this Code has occurred:

- that the approach for investigating and assessing a complaint will be proportionate to the apparent seriousness of the breach complained about;
- that the roles of complaint, investigation, advice and decision-making will be kept separate as appropriate to the nature and complexity of the alleged breach; and
- that the concepts of natural justice and fairness will apply in the determination of any complaints made under this Code. This requires, conditional on the nature of an alleged breach, that affected parties:
 - have a right to know that an investigation process is underway;
 - are given due notice and are provided with an opportunity to be heard;
 - have a right to seek appropriate advice and be represented; and
 - have their privacy respected.

Complaints

All complaints made under this Code must be made in writing and forwarded to the chief executive. On receipt of a complaint the chief executive must forward that complaint to an independent investigator for a preliminary assessment to determine whether the issue is sufficiently serious to warrant a full investigation¹.

Members, the chief executive and members of the public may make a complaint under this Code.

Investigation, advice and decision

The process, following receipt of a complaint, will follow the steps outlined in Appendix Two.

Materiality

An alleged breach under this Code is material if, in the opinion of the independent investigator, it would, if proven, bring a member or the council into disrepute or, if not addressed; reflect adversely on another member of the council.

¹ On behalf of the Council, the Chief Executive will, shortly after the start of a triennium or as needed, prepare, in consultation with the Mayor, a list of investigators. The Chief Executive may prepare a list specifically for the council, prepare a list jointly with neighbouring councils or contract with an agency capable of providing appropriate investigators, such as Equip.

Penalties and actions

Where a complaint is determined to be material and referred to a meeting of full Council the nature of any penalty or action will depend on the seriousness of the breach.

27

Material breaches

In the case of material breaches of this code, Council may require one of the following:

- 1. a letter of censure to the member;
- 2. a request (made either privately or publicly) for an apology;
- 3. a vote of no confidence in the member;
- 4. removal of certain council-funded privileges (such as attendance at conferences);
- 5. restricted entry to council offices, such as no access to staff areas (where restrictions may not previously have existed);
- 6. limitation on any dealings with council staff so that they are confined to the chief executive only;
- 7. suspension from committees or other bodies; or
- 8. an invitation for the member to consider resigning from the council.

Council may decide that a penalty will not be imposed where a respondent agrees to one or more of the following:

- attend a relevant training course; and/or
- work with a mentor for a period of time; and/or
- participate in voluntary mediation (if the complaint involves a conflict between two members); and/or
- tender an apology.

The process is based on the presumption that the outcome of a complaints process will be made public unless there are grounds, such as those set out in the Local Government Official Information and Meetings Act 1987 (LGOIMA), for not doing so.

Statutory breaches

In cases where a breach of the Code is found to involve regulatory or legislative requirements, the complaint will be referred to the relevant agency. For example:

- breaches relating to members' interests (where members may be liable for prosecution by the Auditor-General under the Local Authority (Members' Interests) Act 1968);
- breaches which result in the council suffering financial loss or damage (where the Auditor-General may make a report on the loss or damage under s. s. 44 LGA 2002 which may result in the member having to make good the loss or damage); or
- breaches relating to the commission of a criminal offence which will be referred to the Police (which may leave the elected member liable for criminal prosecution).

Review

Once adopted, a Code of Conduct continues in force until amended by the council. The Code can be amended at any time but cannot be revoked unless the council replaces it with another Code. Once adopted, amendments to the Code require a resolution supported by 75 per cent of the members of the council present at a council meeting where the amendment is considered.

Council may formally review the Code as soon as practicable after the beginning of each triennium. The results of that review will be considered by the council in regard to potential changes for improving the Code.

Appendix One – Relevant Legislation

Legislation bearing on the role and conduct of elected members

This is a summary of the legislation requirements that has some bearing on the duties and conduct of elected members. Copies of these statutes can be found in Council's library or in the office of the chief executive.

29

Local Authority (Members' Interests) Act 1968

This Act regulates situations where a member's personal interests impinge, or could be seen as impinging on their duties as an elected member.

The Act provides that an elected member is disqualified from office if that member is concerned or interested in contracts under which payments made by or on behalf of the local authority exceed $25,000 in any financial year.

Additionally, elected members are prohibited from participating in any Council discussion or voting on any matter in which they have a pecuniary interest, other than an interest in common with the general public. The same rules also apply where the member's spouse contracts with the authority or has a pecuniary interest.

Members may also contact the Audit Office for guidance as to whether that member has a pecuniary interest, and if so, may seek an exemption to allow that member to participate or vote on a particular issue in which they may have a pecuniary interest. The latter must be done before the discussion or vote. The chief executive must also seek approval from the Audit Office for contractual payments to members, their spouses or their companies that exceed the $25,000 annual limit.

Failure to observe these requirements could also leave the elected member open to prosecution under the Local Authority (Members' Interests) Act 1968. In the event of a conviction elected members can be ousted from office.

Local Government Official Information and Meetings Act 1987

The Local Government Official Information and Meetings Act 1987 sets out a list of meetings procedures and requirements. Of particular importance for the roles and conduct of elected members is the fact that the chair has the responsibility to maintain order at meetings, but all elected members should accept a personal responsibility to maintain acceptable standards of address and debate. No elected member should:

- create a disturbance or a distraction while another councillor is speaking
- be disrespectful when they refer to each other or other people
- use offensive language about Council, other councillors, any employee of Council or any member of the public.

Secret Commissions Act 1910

Under this Act it is unlawful for an elected member (or officer) to advise anyone to enter into a contract with a third person and receive a gift or reward from that third person as a result, or to present false receipts to Council.

If convicted of any offence under this Act a person can be imprisoned for up to 2 years, or fines up to $1000. A conviction therefore would trigger the ouster provisions of the Local Government Act 2002 and result in the removal of the member from office.

Crimes Act 1961

Under this Act it is unlawful for an elected member (or officer) to:

- accept or solicit for themselves (or anyone else) any gift or reward for acting or not acting in relation to the business of Council
- use information gained in the course of their duties for their, or another persons' monetary gain or advantage.

These offences are punishable by a term of imprisonment of up to seven years. Elected members convicted of these offences will also be automatically ousted from office.

Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013

The Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013 (previously the Securities Act 1978) essentially places elected members in the same position as company directors whenever Council offers stock to the public. Elected members may be personally liable if investment documents such as a prospectus contain untrue statements and may be liable for criminal prosecution if the requirements of the Act are not met.

Appendix Two – Process for the determination and investigation of complaints

Step 1: Chief executive receives complaint

On receipt of a complaint under this Code the chief executive will refer the complaint to an independent investigator selected from the agreed pool. The chief executive may refer the complaint to an independent investigator outside of the pool if circumstances require it, such as to manage conflicts or to seek specific expertise. The chief executive will also:

- inform the complainant that the complaint has been referred to the independent investigator and the name of the investigator, and refer them to the process for dealing with complaints as set out in the Code; and
- inform the respondent that a complaint has been made against them, the name of the investigator and refer them to the process for dealing with complaints as set out in the Code.

Step 2: Investigator makes preliminary assessment

On receipt of a complaint the investigator will assess whether:

- 1. the complaint is frivolous or without substance and should be dismissed;
- 2. the complaint is outside the scope of the Code and should be redirected to another agency or process;
- 3. the complaint is non-material; and
- 4. the complaint is material and a full investigation is required.

In making the assessment the investigator may make whatever initial inquiry is necessary to determine the appropriate course of action. The investigator has full discretion to dismiss any complaint which, in their view, fails to meet the test of materiality.

On receiving the investigator's preliminary assessment, the chief executive will:

- 1. where an investigator determines that a complaint is frivolous or without substance, inform the complainant and respondent directly and inform other members (if there are no grounds for confidentiality) of the investigator's decision;
- 2. in cases where the investigator finds that the complaint involves a potential legislative breach and outside the scope of the Code, forward the complaint to the relevant agency and inform both the complainant and respondent of the action.

Step 3: Actions where a breach is found to be non-material

If the subject of a complaint is found to be non-material the investigator will inform the chief executive and recommend a course of action, if any, appropriate to the breach, such as;

- that the respondent seek guidance from the Chairperson or Mayor;
- that the respondent attend appropriate courses or programmes to increase their knowledge and understanding of the matters leading to the complaint.

The chief executive will advise both the complainant and the respondent of the investigator's decision and any recommendations, neither of which are open to challenge. Any recommendations made in response to a non-material breach are non-binding on the respondent and the council.

Step 4: Actions where a breach is found to be material

If the subject of a complaint is found to be material the investigator will inform the chief, who will inform the complainant and respondent. The investigator will then prepare a report for the council on the seriousness of the breach.

In preparing that report the investigator may:

- consult with the complainant, respondent and any affected parties;
- undertake a hearing with relevant parties; and/or
- refer to any relevant documents or information.

On receipt of the investigator's report the chief executive will prepare a report for a meeting of full Council, which will consider the findings and determine whether or not a penalty, or some other form of action, will be imposed. The chief executive's report will include the full report prepared by the investigator.

Step 5: Process for considering the investigator's report

Depending upon the nature of the complaint and alleged breach the investigator's report may be considered by the full council, excluding the complainant, respondent and any other 'interested' members, or a committee (the Code of Conduct Committee) established for that purpose.

In order to avoid any suggestion of bias, a Code of Conduct Committee may often be the best mechanism for considering and ruling on complaints. Committees should be established at the start of a triennium with a majority of members selected from the community through either an application process or by invitation.

The Council or committee will consider the chief executive's report in open meeting, except where the alleged breach concerns matters that justify the exclusion of the public, such as the misuse of confidential information or a matter that would otherwise be exempt from public disclosure under s.48 of the LGOIMA, in which case it will be a closed meeting.

Before making any decision in respect of the investigator's report the Council will give the member against whom the complaint has been made an opportunity to appear and speak in their own defence. Members with an interest in the proceedings, including the complainant and the respondent, may not take part in these proceedings.

The form of penalty that might be applied will depend on the nature of the breach and may include actions set out in Part Four of this Code.

In accordance with this Code councils will agree to implement the recommendations of a Code of Conduct Committee without debate.

The contract was let for an initial three-year period in 2012 and makes provision for extending for a further two years (1+1). The second of the one year extensions was approved by Council in August 2016 to a total contract value of $18,881,318.31.

On 25th May 2017 Council approved an extension of the contract for a further period of one year from 1 July 2017 to 30 June 2018. The contract value was increased by $4,200,000.00 (excluding GST) to the total current contract value of $23,081,318.31 (excluding GST).

During the 2017/18 season, additional works to the value of $520,000.00 (excluding GST) were required for the rehabilitation and asphalting works of Bank St. In addition, Roading have assisted the Parks & Recreation Department with resurfacing of carparks for a value of $200,000.00.

4.1 Financial/budget considerations

A breakdown of the additional costs is provided in the following table:

Item	Variation	Amount (excl. GST)
1.	Rehabilitation and asphalting works of Bank St	$520,000.00
2.	Resurfacing of carparks	$200,000.00
	TOTAL	$720,000.00

A breakdown of cost for the whole contract is provided in the following table:

Description	Amount (excl. GST)
Original contract value	$7,790,705.00
Revised contract value (rollover approved May 2017)	$23,081,318.31
Amount of previously approved variations	$15,290,613.31
Amount of this variation	$720,000.00
Total revised contract value	$23,801,318.31

These additional Roading Department works will be funded from the 2017/18 sealed road pavement rehabilitation category and the Parks Department works from the Carpark and Path renewals category.

6.3 Amendment to Resource Management Act, Environment Court Delegation

Meeting:	Whangarei District Counci
Date of meeting:	29 March 2018
Reporting officer:	Melissa McGrath

1 Purpose

To approve an amendment to delegation G18, Resource Management Act 1991, Environment Court proceedings of the Delegation Manual to include incidental applications that may be appropriately made by Council, or other parties, during the course of those proceedings.

2 Recommendation/s

That the Council

1. Approve the following amendment to delegation G18 of the Delegation Manual 2014:

G18	Authority to defend against those appeals that cannot be settled, in mediation or before the Environment Court, including the authority to reach agreement while in mediation or at Court, and to make, or attend to, any applications that may be appropriate, or be lodged with the Court in the course of those appeals, in consultation with Council's solicitors	Chief Executive General Manager Planning and Development District Plan Manager with Council's solicitors.

3 Background

Upon reviewing the Council delegation manual, it has been found to be unclear as to who has delegation to approve incidental applications to the Environment Court.

As worded delegation G18 within the Delegations Manual 2014 does not provide certainty for users as to what delegation applies to the approval of incidental application that may be appropriately made by Council or other parties, during the course of Environment Court proceedings.

4 Discussion

Council has received 20 appeals against the rural, coast, landscape and minerals plan changes. To reasonably progress mediation of these appeals Council must have the ability to lodge incidental applications to the Environment Court. The Environment Court has a broad range of powers, however, these applications might include applications to strike out district plan appeals (in whole or in part), requests for further and better particulars of appeals, or an application security costs or a costs award associated with district plan appeals.

The Environment Court has issued a minute instructing all parties engaged with the rural, coast, landscape and minerals plan changes appeals, of an extremely tight timeframe to proceed, Council needs to prepare and respond quickly.

6.4 Council Benchmarks 2016-2017

Meeting:	Whangarei District Council
Date of meeting:	29 March 2018
Reporting officer:	Alan Adcock (General Manager – Corporate/CFO)

1 Purpose

To provide Council with financial benchmarking data.

2 Recommendation

That Council notes the financial benchmarking data in the report.

3 Background

This report is a summary of information obtained from the 2016/17 Annual Reports of the G9 Councils. The G9 Councils are provincial councils that are broadly similar to Whangarei District Council. The other 8 Councils in the G9 are Tauranga City Council, Hastings District Council, New Plymouth City Council, Whanganui District Council, Rotorua Lakes Council, Palmerston North City Council, Napier City Council and Gisborne District Council.

Benchmarking

Benchmarking provides a means by which we can compare or organisation to other similar organisations. Benchmarking is often seen as a league table with the best organisations on the top and the worst performing organisations below. However, as is often the case, the situation is more complicated than that.

Organisations are not identical so information must be used with care. For example, on the surface, Gisborne District Council has considerably higher rates per resident than Whangarei District Council. However, Gisborne District is a Unitary Authority and their rates include regional council functions so they should be higher than WDC. For that reason, it is also important that we don't overly focus on a single benchmarking indicator. Rather we should look at all the indicators and gain a general impression of how we are performing.

Used properly benchmarking provides information that allows us to as questions about whether we are making the right tradeoffs and can identify areas for improvement. In order to make the comparisons meaningful we have to compensate for the different size of each council. For example, Tauranga with a population of over 134,000 will clearly spend more money on works and services that Gisborne and Whanganui with populations of approximately 45,000. We've benchmarked councils on a "per resident", "per rating unit", "per km2" (geographical size) and as a proportion of total revenue or expenditure.

4 Discussion

4.1 Rates and Revenue

Previous data has shown that Whangarei District Council rates are among the lowest in the country. This information confirms that our rates are low relative to our peers.

On average the G9 Councils collect just over $1000 in rates for every person (not ratepayer) in the district. WDC collects $992 (approx. 7% less than the average). Napier City Council ($833) and Hastings District Council are the only G9 councils that collects less rates per resident than WDC. If we use rates per rating unit as a comparison, then only Napier City Council ($1,999) is lower than WDC ($2,050 per rating unit), approximately 14% less than the average ($2397).

While WDC has introduced rates rises approximately 7% above the level of inflation and population growth over the last two financial years, it is interesting that we are still at the lower end of our peer councils.

While rates are generally the single largest source of council revenue, other sources of funding such as roading subsidies, user charges, and investment income all assist council to pay for the services to the community.

4.2 Subsidies and Grants

Like most Councils, WDC has consistently targeted roading subsidies to maximize the return for ratepayer dollars.

Currently, subsidies make up 11% of WDC income which equals the G9 average. This is a reduction from the previous year (13%) and reflects year to year variations in the roading program. Three Councils got a significantly higher proportion of their income from subsidy Gisborne District (23%), Whanganui District (19%) and Hastings District (17%).

4.3 Total Revenue

On average rates make up 63% of the total revenue of the G9 Councils. In WDC's case just over half (55%) of our revenue comes from rates, the second lowest of the group after Napier (49%). This suggests that WDC continues to be effective at obtaining funds from sources other than rates.

The WDC's total revenue (rates, subsidies, investment income fees and charges) per resident is $1789, just above the G9 average of $1737.

4.4 Expenditure

Whangarei District Council's expenditure per resident ($2003) is above the G9 average ($1678). This is a change from last year, where WDC was well below the G9 average. This change is largely attributable to the one off non-cash adjustment for the transfer of Mangakahia/Loop Roads to NZTA. If this is removed the WDC measure reduces to $1569.

Differences between an individual council and the average can be for a number of reasons. One scenario is a council is performing better than average at managing its costs, another may be that it provides a lower level of service than average in some areas.

Generally, the councils with greater population density (Tauranga, Napier/Hastings, and Palmerston North) have the lowest expenditure per resident. It is possible that higher population density helps lower costs of infrastructure (water supplies, wastewater, roading networks etc.).

4.5 Debt

Whangarei District Council's debt per resident is $1,806. This is higher than the average for the G9 Councils ($1,483).

Debt levels for the G9 councils vary significantly, ranging from less than $800 per resident through to over $2600 per resident. For a variety of reasons, Councils are generally very conservative when it comes to taking on debt.

4.6 Personnel costs

Whangarei District Council has the lowest personnel cost per resident and the smallest proportion of personnel costs to total expenditure of all the G9 Councils.

WDC spends 14% of its budget on personnel costs compared to the G9 average of 24%. Using a different measure WDC's personnel expenditure per resident is $281 per resident compared to the G9 average of $387 per resident. The data suggests that WDC keeps very tight control of our personnel costs, and that recent increases in staff numbers have kept pace with growth driven demand and revenues.

4.7 Consultants and legal fees

WDC spent about 1% of its budget on consultants and legal fees, less than the average for G9 councils of 3%.

What does this mean?

As noted above one must be careful about reading too much in to benchmarking data as we are not always comparing "apples with apples". In this case we could make the following conclusions:

- WDC has low rates compared to other councils
- WDC has generally been successful in its strategy to fund as much work as possible from subsidies and other non-rate income (e.g. user charges and debt)
- WDC controls its costs quite well and spends slightly less than average on providing its services to residents
- WDC has low personnel expenditure.
- WDC has higher debt than average but this is reducing.

Overall it suggests Council has a history of strong financial management which is continuing. This is backed up by Standard and Poors who have given Council an AA credit rating with a stable outlook.

4.8 Another perspective.

The analysis presented in this report is based on analysis prepared by staff from data in the 2016/17 Annual Reports of G9 councils.

Late last year WDC participated in a sector wide benchmarking survey conducted by PWC - the Australasian LG Performance Excellence Program. This is a comprehensive and detailed survey covering many aspects of council operations, including Human Resources, Financial Management, Infrastructure Planning and Risk Management. A copy of the report will be included in next month's agenda.

5 Significance and engagement

Council conducts a wide range of benchmarking activities to better understand comparative performance and value across key services; and use this information to inform budget setting, prioritise and drive improvement and ensure members have the opportunity to compare performance with other similar councils.

The decisions or matters of this report do not trigger the significance criteria outlined in Council's Significance and Engagement Policy, and the public will be informed via report publication on the website, Council News.
